The President's Message

In my over twenty years as President, the thing that I am most proud about is the Major effort by MD TAMS to document individual items and areas of interest in our hobby. This is so important. It is said that information is power but information is fleeting. I have heard that if you tell a story to somebody and they retell it, only about 80% of the original story moves forward. This loss of information will continue as the story is passed on. This is why we need to ensure that our hobby information is documented and passed on for future hobbyists and historians. The Maryland Token and Medal Society does this well and this makes me proud. We MUST continue this effort.

Bernie Bodt, Joe Burford, Bill Miller, Russ & Jane Sears, Millard Hajek, Wally Stone, Carl Neeley and Frank Pugliese have all been our prime movers in this documentation effort. When you look back through your old copies of the MD TAMS Journal and when you look at all the MD TAMS Reference Books that we produced, you will see mostly these names as the authors. Unfortunately, Russ is no longer with us and Wally and Millard are no longer active. We need to continue our documentation efforts. Please join those listed above and do a Journal article or do a new reference book. Pick a new or favorite token/medal and research it. Pick an area of interest in Maryland tokens or medals and do a reference. They can be long or short. Choose a theme like Maryland Lumber Tokens or Maryland Mining Tokens.

Remember that most of our old Journals are on-line with the Newman Portal. Also, most of our books/reference documents are for sale and frequently ordered and used by hobbyists. Our (your) contribution in this area is greatly needed, appreciated and most importantly frequently used in our hobby. Pay it forward and do what you can to help MD TAMS capture this fleeting data before time takes its toll and valuable hobby data is gone forever. Thanks to those who have contributed and thanks in advance to those who will in the future.

Ed Craig

FROM YOUR EDITOR

Hello Fellow Members

WELCOME TO THE YEAR! You are receiving this journal after we had our first meeting. Swap meet dates have been scheduled and posted. Your dues are due at the end of this month. Please send your payment to the club's address. At the last meeting it was planned that I would be working on the club's membership data base. Anyone paying their dues will receive a payment notice in email or snail mail. This will be your receipt of the club receiving your payment for dues. This should help with keeping track of members paying dues and enable me to get the journal out to those paying.

As always I ask for articles. Remember that you can win the "A. Vernon Taylor Award" if your article is judged the best article sent in and published. First, Second and new author awards are given. They will be given out at our next meeting on May 25th. Which is our annual meeting?

As I go thru Russ's things. I try to come up with a door prize that will encourage members to attend the meeting. Come and see what I have planned next.

HICKORY PACKING COMPANY

Bernie Bodt R-282

HICKORY, is a small village approximately 2 miles north of Bel Air, Harford County, Maryland. In 1831 this was the post office of Hickory 'Tavern which continued to serve until 1849. This area is currently served by the Bel Air post office.

According to the Canner's Directory issued by the National Canner's Association of Washington, D. C., the first listing for a canning operation in Hickory was in 1909 as HICKORY PACKING COMPANY with William Gray Hoskins (1860-1947) proprietor. Ownership by Hoskins continued through the 1942 packing season. In 1943 Donald S. Stubbs acquired the assets from W. G. Hoskins. Up to this time both packed tomatoes exclusively. In 1945 green beans and wax beans were added to the product line with additional factories in Cockeysville, MD and Fort Lauderdale, FL.

In 1947 the business name changed from HICKORY PACKING COMPANY to HICKORY CANNING COMPANY. The last listing from this operation was 1967.

Below are two labels known to exist for these operations:

HICKORY BRAND – SUGAR CORN
Hickory Packing Company – c. 1909

OLD HICKORY BRAND – TOMATOES
Hickory Canning Company – c. 1950

Notes From The Eastern Shore

More about those Etched Cannery Tokens

“If I knew then what I know now...”, famous last words. Looking back over almost 40 years of collecting tokens, I wish I had been more diligent in recording stories from those who are no longer with us. “Too late now”, one might think, but not necessarily so. Something that has peaked my curiosity over the past couple of years is the origin of the series of etched tokens that have their origins on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, specifically the K C Co (Kirby Canning Co) and U.C.C. (United Canneries Corp.) tokens that, along with others, had been etched with some sort of vibrating tool.

The story of these tokens goes back 50+ years and involves three major characters: the late Armand Lapauze and Moses Moore, both from Cambridge, MD, and Chris E. Jensen, originally from Mt. Vernon, NY. I could have easily gotten the story from Mr. Moore while he was alive, but foolishly did not. So recently I have tried to piece the story together, and this is what I’ve learned.

Sometime in the 1960s, Mr. Armand Lapauze must have acquired a “hoard” of tokens from the Kirby Canning Co. of Trappe, MD, along with tokens from the DeWitt -Lane Canning Co. It appears Mr. Lapauze sold all or part of this hoard to C.E. Jensen, a young collector from New York state. Soon after, Mr. Jensen began offering these tokens for sale or trade (See, “A Blast From the Past”, Summer 2018 MD TAMS Journal).

Also, around this time, Mr. Moore was offered all the tokens of the Phillips Packing Co. on the condition he haul them away. There were thousands of tokens of many different varieties, and if he had not taken them they would have been hauled to the dump! So, Mr. Moore loaded up his station wagon and took the tokens home. While he kept many of the scarcer varieties there were still many thousands of common tokens to get rid of. In his book, Dorchester Canning and Packing Tokens, Mr. Moore states that he gave Mr. Lapauze the bulk of the Phillips hoard to get rid of.

Most of these tokens went to Jensen. Jensen, still a teenager, now had many thousands of tokens from the Kirby and Phillips hoards. What to do with them? It appears that one of his plans was to engrave, or etch, some of the tokens, perhaps with the hopes of identifying the tokens and making them more desirable. Pictured are 5 different types of tokens that were etched with a vibrating tool:

Phillips Packing Co., Church Creek Plant (of Dorchester County)

Davis Canning Co. (of Laurel Delaware, part of the Phillips hoard, 2 etched, one not)

United Canning Corp. (of Newark, Delaware, part of the Phillips hoard)

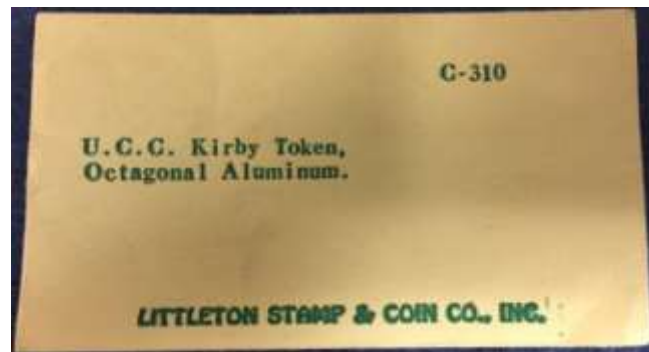

Kirby Canning Co.

Recently, in a conversation with Mr. David Schenkman, author of Maryland Merchant Tokens, it was said that Jensen told Mr. Schenkman he had etched all the tokens himself! Looking at the side by side comparison of the 2 U.C.C. tokens pictured, one can see that details are slightly different on each of the tokens. Imagine, if he had done them one at a time it would have taken dozens, if not hundreds of hours to etch all the tokens known!

There are mistakes on some of the tokens. The Davis tokens are as identified as being from Trappe, MD, which Jensen might have assumed to be true since the original hoard of Kirby tokens came from Trappe. The same mistake is made with the U.C.C. tokens, with the additional error of them being identified as being from the Kirby-Utt Canning Co. (no such cannery ever existed).

Did etching the tokens make them more desirable or increase their value? Apparently not. In his article, “Canning Tokens of Eastern Shores of Maryland” in the February 1970 edition of TAMS Journal, Mr. Melvin Fuld indicates the rarity as “None”, saying in reference to one of the Church Creek tokens, “Because of the engraving we believe the token has no value”. Mr. Fuld mentions that there were 800 of the Church Creek tokens with MD available, and 2,600 of the Kirby Canning Co. tokens in existence, without saying how many had been etched. We do know that the Littleton Stamp & Coin Co., Inc. purchased some of the U.C.C. tokens, as evidenced by the envelope shown.

Over the years Jensen put many thousands of the Kirby & Phillips hoard tokens in circulation, as evidenced by their constant appearance on ebay and other venues. They represent some of the most common Maryland tokens, and all of us probably have a couple of them in our collections. I would have loved to have discussed the tokens with Chris E. Jensen, but he could not be found. Whatever we think of these etched tokens, they remain an interesting and obscure part of our hobby.

Editor's Note

While researching an item I was putting on Ebay. I found this great online copy of a book that was printed. “Maryland History in Prints 1743-1900” by Laura Rice. If you’re really into Maryland history this book shows Sachse maps, prints, and Magnus prints, etc. It is a very large file to download. (404 pages) Great reading and enjoying of pictures for a cold long winter. (PS - I may have a copy of the book in Russ’s things – have to check)
